Hi Matt,

This action has not been approved yet. Maja and Steve worked out a process by which the approval will come down the chain of command through Steve. It's not yet clear whether we'll get something in writing or not.

Hi Steve,

The top nav includes an link to the environmental topics page which includes a link to the climate change page. If we had taken down the climate change page tonite, that link would have broken.

If we take it down tomorrow, we'll have time to fix that link and others so it shouldn't be a problem.

Let me know if you have more questions.

Hi Lin,

You mentioned today that removing sections of the web site would create broken links. Can you please elaborate on that, e.g., where and how serious would the problem be? Would the topics be removed from the top navigation? Are there any other issues that you are aware of?

No action has been requested. I'd just like to understand the issues.

Thanks.

Steve
